JOHN 2:10

When Water Becomes Wine

FR. JOSEPH JUKNIALIS

For all of us, at one time or another, life seems to run out of wine. We look at our relationships and find ourselves saying, “There’s no more wine.” It may be a friendship of five years or a marriage of twenty-five years, but, for some, the wine runs out. For others, it is the job that loses its challenge. Or, one day, the foreman gathers everyone to announce that the plant is closing. In a moment, all has turned into vinegar; there is no more wine. For others still, it is when retirement suffocates the future, choking all that once gave meaning.

However, there are also those times when hope is reborn, when we feel “espoused” not only by life but also by God, when the ordinary turns extraordinary—and the water becomes wine. It is the phone call offering a new job after we have collected unemployment checks for months. It is falling in love when we have given up on the notion. It is conceiving a child after years of barren waiting. It is someone who listens, finally, when no one else would. It is at times like these—and many others as well—when we are caught off-balance and trip into God unwittingly, saved from drudgery and redeemed to live a life enriched, when water is turned into wine. It is a deeply felt joy that reveals God’s presence. ●

Reflect

Is there an area in your life where you need “new wine”?

PASTOR'S POINT:

Dear Parishioners,

ONE OF TODAY'S ISSUES - Beginning on January 22, 1973, with Roe v. Wade, and during the nearly 50-year period following the Supreme Court decision, nearly 64 million children have been killed (in the USA alone not including other countries, even Bermuda) the untold numbers of women and men suffer in the aftermath. Even with the overturning of Roe v. Wade on June 24, 2022, (Dobbs v. Jackson Women's Health Organization) we praise God for the great opportunity state and federal legislators now have to protect preborn children. While God, in His mercy, ended the nearly fifty-year nationwide regime of abortion on demand, right now state and federal laws, in many instances, are still hostile to preborn children. In essence there could be 50 different positions since it is up to the states to fashion abortion policy.

So, great prayer and advocacy is very needed not only in the United States, but also for the abortions that are taking place here in Bermuda. Women, men and families are affected by this action that takes place in our society and unfortunately throughout the world. As Catholics, we need to pray for an end to this and pray for the "adoption option" instead. The General Instruction of the Roman Missal (GIRM), no. 373, designates January 22 as a particular day of prayer and penance, called the "Day of Prayer for the Legal Protection of Unborn Children." For example, the Church directs: In all the Dioceses of the United States of America, January 22 (or January 23, when January 22 falls on a Sunday) shall be observed as a particular day of prayer for the full restoration of the legal guarantee of the right to life and of penance for violations to the dignity of the human person committed through acts of abortion.

As individuals, we are called to observe this day through the penitential practices of prayer, fasting and/or almsgiving. The U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops (USCCB) provides resources to help parishes, schools, families, ministries, and individual Catholics participate in this important day of prayer and penance. However, really, we can observe these suggestions and practices at any time.

In addition, the USCCB also sponsors an annual, nationwide novena called 9 Days for Life, which encompasses the liturgical observance of the Day of Prayer. Each day for nine days, a different intention is featured, accompanied by a short reflection, suggested actions, and related information as we pray for the respect and protection of every human life. Visit respectlife.org/9-days-for-life for more information on the annual campaign.

Let us pray for the eradication of abortion worldwide as no child is unimportant since we are created by God for a reason. We all have dignity and worth that is in part why Christ has come into our world for sinful humanity. January is a good time to reflect upon life but let us pray throughout the whole year for women and men to make the right decision to CHOOSE LIFE. We need to thank our father and mother who chose life for us. We need to be PILGRIMS OF HOPE as our Jubilee 2025 theme indicates.

God bless,
Fr. Joe, Vicar General

WORDS OF LIFE - January 19th

"There is such a wide spectrum of issues involving the protection of human life and the promotion of human dignity. Good people frequently disagree on which problems to address, which policies to adopt and how best to apply them. But for citizens and elected officials alike, the basic principle is simple: We must begin with a commitment never to intentionally kill, or collude in the killing, of any innocent human life, no matter how broken, unformed, disabled or desperate that life may seem. In other words, the choice of certain ways of acting is always and radically incompatible with the love of God and the dignity of the human person created in His image."

Dear Padre,

Is there a year of John? I know we're now in the year of Luke, next year will be the year of Matthew, and the following year will be the year of Mark. Then the cycle starts over with Luke. Why doesn't John have a year?

Matthew, Mark, and Luke, collectively known as the synoptic gospels, are narrative gospels. Together, they tell the story of Jesus of Nazareth. Although in some ways they might be understood synoptically, "the same," each narrative is unique in its emphasis. The Church desires that we hear these narratives and be nourished through the proclamation of the early memories of the Christian community.

John's Gospel, on the other hand, is not primarily a narrative, but is best understood as theological. As such, it is highly dependent on the use of symbolic representations to make the point it intends. For example, "I am the light of the world."

Whoever follows me...will have the light of life" (John 8:12). The interplay between light and darkness illustrates the point. John's Gospel is intended to be experienced and engaged in as "bigger than life," proposing and celebrating Christian themes that are life-giving and inviting. Therefore, we hear John's Gospel when the Church celebrates the mystery of the saving life and resurrection of Jesus. For this reason, the Gospel of John is proclaimed on Good Friday, during the Easter season, and on other major feasts. ●

A WORD FROM POPE FRANCIS

I suggest an exercise.... Let us think about that difficult moment in which God let me experience his love.... And let us ask ourselves: with which discrete and loving signs did he let me feel his tenderness? When did I feel the Lord nearer? When did I feel his tenderness and his compassion?

A note on the Gospel selection

The second Sunday in ordinary time always features a reading from the Gospel of John. John emphasizes the divine origin of Jesus more than the other Gospel-writers. Passages from this Gospel create a bridge from the Christmas season to ordinary time. Our attention shifts from the divine origin of Jesus to Jesus' public ministry.

THE FIRST READING

The ruined city

This passage was written at least fifty years after the Babylonians invaded Jerusalem and sacked the city and the temple. The Jews are now free to rebuild, but the work is slow, and there are many obstacles.

The prophet says he won't stop preaching (he won't shut up!) until the work is finished. He has a sort of holy impatience to see the city rebuilt because he is eager for the city to reveal God's glory once again.

Transformed

Once the city is restored, her radiance will catch people's attention (v.1b). Other nations will see that God favors Israel above all others (v.2a). The city and surrounding region will receive a new name in honor of her transformation (vv.2b,4). God will hold her aloft like a crown (v.3).

The passage closes with language about how much God loves his people. God is like a man who's excited to be getting married (v.5). The city that was once ruined and abandoned will rejoice that she is wedded to her savior.

JOHN 2:1-11

2. Which part of the story most captures your attention? Why do you think this is so?

THE GOSPEL READING

The first sign

The first twelve chapters of John are sometimes called The Book of Signs. Here Jesus works seven signs that reveal his divine origin and compel people to accept or reject him. In some of these signs, Jesus replaces an aspect of Jewish ritual with himself. Now that God’s Son has come into the world, all worship centers around him.

Weddings & wine

In the Old Testament the relationship between God and his people is often described as a marriage. This metaphor expresses the deep love God has for his people. The setting of Jesus’ first sign – a wedding banquet – reminds us of this close and joyful bond.

The joyful banquet also alludes to the fullness of God’s reign. Many Old Testament passages speak about God’s kingdom as a great feast. In ancient times wine was a feature of these celebratory gatherings. Descriptions about God’s heavenly banquet often include references to an abundance of wine (Isaiah 55:1f; Joel 4:18; Amos 9:13f).

The symbolism

Mary represents the church, those who believe that Jesus is God’s Son. Her comment that the wine has run out implies that Jesus can provide something even better and richer than what their own Jewish tradition provides.

Jesus responds that it isn’t time for him to provide his great gift. The word hour refers to his Passion, death, and resurrection. The time for these events has been set by God and can’t be changed by anyone.

Jesus does act, however. He discreetly transforms water used for religious purposes into enough wine to last for days. He gives a foretaste of what will happen because of his hour. When his hour comes, he will reveal the fullness of God’s love and offer people eternal life.

The story works beautifully at the symbolic level but raises questions at the level of history. Why does Jesus dismiss his mother’s concern but then act on it? How does she know he’ll help? These are questions we simply can’t answer with certainty.

PRAYER

from the Anima Christi

Soul of Christ, sanctify me.
 Body of Christ, save me.
 Blood of Christ, inebriate me.
 Water from the side of Christ, wash me.
 Passion of Christ, strengthen me.
 O good Jesus, hear me.
 Within your wounds hide me.
 Separated from you let me never be.
 From the Evil One defend me.
 At the hour of my death call me.
 Into your presence lead me
 that I may praise you with all your saints forever and ever. Amen.
